Sammode

Éloi Chafaï and Jean-François Dingjian, designers from the Normal Studio agency, have been the art directors of the Sammode brand since 2014. As of 2015, they design, from the emblematic tubular luminaire of the firm, three versions that emancipate themselves from the wall—wall or ceiling—and allow, indoors and outdoors, to expand its field of use: the Astrup table lamp, the Balke walker and the Bodom floor lamp. In 2018, with the Paname collection, they dress the said tubular luminaire with perforated metal grids with elegant patterns through the Rivoli, Vendôme, Monceau or Belleville ranges.

On the occasion of the Milan/Euroluce 2023 International Lighting Fair, Sammode unveils a series of new products designed by Éloi Chafaï and Jean-François Dingjian, which offer a complete choice of uses for interior design and architecture. The Paname collection is enriched by two new types: a chandelier and a floor lamp. With the latter, Sammode gives the tubular luminaire complete spatial autonomy and a new freedom of use.
